Pittsburgh Steelers
Head Coach

Mike Tomlin was named the 16th head coach in Pittsburgh Steelers history on Jan. 22, 2007. Hired at the age of 34, Tomlin became only the third head coach hired by the Steelers since 1969.

Tomlin became the youngest head coach in NFL history to both coach in and win a Super Bowl when he led the Steelers to a 27-23 victory over the Arizona Cardinals in Super Bowl XLIII. By winning the Super Bowl in only his second season as a head coach, he also became the fastest to win a Super Bowl title in Steelers' history.

Tomlin is one of only seven coaches in league history to win a Super Bowl within his first two seasons as an NFL head coach. Tomlin is the only head coach in Steelers history to lead the team to two Super Bowls in his first four seasons at the helm, including an appearance against the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XLV. He is one of only two Steelers' head coaches to win three division titles in his first four seasons.

Tomlin has compiled a 43-21 record in the regular season during his four-year head coaching career. His .672 winning percentage in his first four seasons is tied for the best in team history with former coach Bill Cowher. In 2010, Tomlin became only the second Steelers' head coach to win at least 10 games in three of his first four seasons.

The Steelers were dominant on the road in 2010, finishing with a 7-1 regular season record away from Heinz Field. Tomlin's seven road wins during the regular season tied a Steelers record previously set in 1978 and again in 2004.

The Steelers finished second in total defense under Tomlin's guidance in 2010, allowing only 276.8 yards per game. Pittsburgh led the NFL and set a team record in rushing defense, yielding only 62.8 yards per game (1,004 yards), the third-best total in NFL history dating back to 1970. The Steelers also established an NFL record in 2010 by not allowing an opponent to rush for more than 75 yards in any of their first eight games during regular the season.

In all, the Steelers defense led the NFL in 2010 in rushing yards allowed, points allowed (232), touchdowns (22), quarterback sacks (48), rushing average (3.0), yards per play (4.5) and yards allowed on first down (4.08). It finished second in the league in passing average (6.31), turnover advantage (+14) and red-zone efficiency (40.0, tied).

Under Tomlin, the Steelers broke new ground on offense in 2009. Pittsburgh's offense ranked seventh in the NFL (ninth passing, 19th rushing) but became the first unit in team history to boast a 4,000-yard passer, two 1,000-yard receivers and a 1,000-yard rusher in the same season. Pittsburgh's defense ranked fifth in the NFL (third vs. run, 16th vs. pass) while leading the AFC and finishing one shy of the NFL lead with 47 quarterback sacks.

The Steelers continued to be dominant at Heinz Field under Tomlin in 2009. Pittsburgh finished with a 6-2 home record in 2009 after finishing 7-1 (2007) and 6-2 (2008) at home during Tomlin's first two seasons. Tomlin's 24-8 record and .750 winning percentage at home after four seasons ranks second in Steelers' history.

Mike Tomlin

Tomlin finished the 2008 season with a 12-4 record and his second consecutive AFC North Division title, becoming the only Steelers head coach to win division crowns in each of his first two seasons. He also set a record with 22 regular-season wins in his first two years at the helm and is the only Steelers head coach to win at least 10 games in each of his first two seasons. Tomlin's .688 winning percentage (22-10) after two years is the best in Steelers' history.

The Steelers' defense was dominant under Tomlin's guidance in 2008, leading the NFL in total defense (237.2), pass defense (156.9), points per game (13.9), total yards per play (3.9), rushing yards per attempt (3.3), passing yards per attempt (4.7) and third-down efficiency (31.4), and finished second in league rushing defense (80.3).

Tomlin began his head coaching career by becoming only the second Steelers' head coach to win his first three games. During 2007, the Steelers became just the fifth team in NFL history to win their first four home games by at least 20 points.

Tomlin led the Steelers to a 10-6 record in 2007, and became just the second coach in team history to post a winning record, win a division title and earn a playoff berth in his inaugural season.

Tomlin guided the Steelers to the NFL's top-ranked defense in 2007, yielding only 266.4 yards per game. The Steelers' defense ranked third in the NFL against both the run (89.9 avg.) and pass (176.5 avg.), and also finished third in the league in total yards allowed per play (4.6). Pittsburgh's defense led the NFL in passing yards per play (5.7) and first downs allowed per game (15.6), and finished second in the league in points allowed per game (16.8).

The Steelers' offense finished third in the NFL in rushing (135.5 avg.) during Tomlin's first season, sparked by running back Willie Parker who led the league in rushing before injuring his leg in Week 16. QB Ben Roethlisberger enjoyed a record-setting season during Tomlin's first year, establishing new team records for touchdown passes (32) and passer rating (104.1), while earning his first career Pro Bowl appearance. In 2007, the Steelers held the advantage in time of possession in 14-of-16 regular season games.

Tomlin was the NFL's second-youngest head coach in 2007, and he became only the second Steelers' coach in team history to win at least 10 games during his first year at the helm. The Steelers posted a 7-1 record at home in 2007 and were 5-1 in the AFC North (3-0 at home).

Tomlin spent the 2006 season as the Minnesota Vikings' defensive coordinator. Under Tomlin in 2006, the Vikings ranked eighth in the NFL in total defense and first against the run while not allowing a 100-yard rusher the entire season.

Tomlin was the defensive backs coach from 2001-05 with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. In 2002, Tomlin guided one of the most productive defensive backfields in the NFL, culminating with its performance in Super Bowl XXXVII. The secondary recorded four of the team's five interceptions, returning two for touchdowns to help Tampa Bay capture the franchise's first Super Bowl title.

Before joining Tampa Bay's staff, Tomlin served two seasons as the defensive backs coach at the University of Cincinnati (1999-00). He took over a secondary that ranked 111th in the nation in pass defense in 1998 and helped them improve to 61st overall in his first season. Under Tomlin's direction in 2000, the Bearcats ranked eighth in the nation in interceptions as well as fourth nationally in total turnovers.

Prior to joining the Cincinnati staff, Tomlin had a short stint on the coaching staff at Tennessee-Martin and then spent two seasons at Arkansas State where he coached wide receivers in 1997 before switching to defensive backs in 1998. Tomlin spent the 1996 season as a graduate assistant at the University of Memphis, where he worked with the Tiger defensive backs and special teams units. He began his coaching career in 1995 as wide receivers coach at Virginia Military Institute.

Tomlin was a three-year starter at wide receiver at William and Mary (1990-94) and finished his career with 101 receptions for 2,046 yards and a school-record 20 TD catches. A first-team All-Yankee Conference selection in 1994, he established a school record with a 20.2 yards-per-catch average.

John Mitchell is in his 18th season as the Steelers' defensive line coach, ranking him as the longest-tenured member of the Steelers' coaching staff. He remained with the team following Mike Tomlin's hiring in January, 2007, and was promoted to assistant head coach.

Mitchell, who joined the Steelers' coaching staff Jan. 31, 1994, is in his 39th season of coaching, including 16 years at the college level and two in the United States Football League. This is his 21st season as an NFL coach.

Mitchell has been instrumental in the development of the Steelers' defensive linemen, including five-time Pro Bowl nose tackle Casey Hampton and defensive end Aaron Smith, who earned his first Pro Bowl appearance in 2005. He also helped develop starting defensive end Brett Keisel and nose tackle Chris Hoke, who filled in sensationally for an injured Hampton during the 2004 season.

Under his guidance, Pittsburgh's defensive front helped the Steelers lead the NFL in run defense five times and finish in the top three on 12 separate occasions. The team has only allowed one 100-yard rusher for a stretch of 50 straight regular-season games from 2007-10 and allowed just 62.8 yards per game rushing in 2010, shattering the previous team record set in 2001. In addition, the 62.8 yards per game placed the Steelers as one of the best since the NFL merger in 1970.

Strong play by Mitchell's line was a huge reason why the Steelers finished the 2008 regular season second overall in the NFL behind the Minnesota Vikings against the run (80.3 avg.). In 2009, Pittsburgh's defense ranked fifth in the NFL while leading the AFC and finishing one shy of the NFL lead with 47 sacks. In 2010 the Steelers put on a defensive showcase by leading the NFL in at least eight categories, including total sacks (48), and total points allowed (232), and it was the first time in NFL history a team was able to hold their opponents to 75 or fewer yards in each of their first eight games.

A former All-America defensive end for Alabama, Mitchell was the first African-American to play for the Crimson Tide. Mitchell's early years in coaching were spent studying under two of college football's greatest coaches. He began his coaching career in 1973 as defensive line coach under Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama (1973-76). He then spent six seasons as defensive line coach at Arkansas (1977-82) on Lou Holtz's staff.

In 1983, Mitchell made his first move to the professional level. From 1983-85 he served as defensive line coach for the USFL's Birmingham Stallions and returned to the college ranks in 1986 as defensive ends coach at Temple. Mitchell began a four-year stint in 1987 as linebackers coach at Louisiana State (1987-90) under former Steelers' linebacker coach Mike Archer, who was the head coach. In 1990, Mitchell became the first African-American defensive coordinator in Southeastern Conference (SEC) history when he was named LSU's defensive coordinator. He also coached the Tigers' linebackers.

Mitchell, 58, joined the NFL ranks in 1991 with the Cleveland Browns, where he tutored two Pro Bowl defensive tackles, Michael Dean Perry and Rob Burnett. Mitchell accepted his current appointment following three seasons coaching the defensive line for the Browns.

A two-time Junior College All-American defensive end at Eastern Arizona Junior College in 1969-70, Mitchell then transferred to Alabama. A starter at defensive end from 1971-72, Mitchell earned All-America honors in 1972. He earned a bachelor's degree in social work in 1972. In 2009, Mitchell was elected into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame.

Born in Mobile, Ala., Mitchell and his wife Joyce live in Pittsburgh.

Bruce Arians is in his fifth season as offensive coordinator under head coach Mike Tomlin, following three seasons as the Steelers' wide receivers coach. It marks the fourth time he is serving as an offensive coordinator in his coaching career, including one previous time in the NFL and twice at the collegiate ranks.

Named to the Steelers' coaching staff on Jan. 24, 2004, Arians has over 34 years of coaching experience, including 17 years in the NFL.

Arians has been instrumental in the development of quarterback Ben Roethlisberger. With 69 regular-season career wins, including a 18-9 mark during Arians' two seasons as offensive coordinator, Roethlisberger has a .704 winning percentage, and places him with the second-best record in the NFL among all active quarterbacks. Roethlisberger also became the second-youngest quarterback to win two Super Bowls (26 years, 336 days) when the Steelers defeated the Arizona Cardinals, 27-23, in Super Bowl XLIII.

Arians, 57, helped All-Pro wide receiver Hines Ward become one of the best wideouts in the NFL over the past seven seasons. During Arians' first seven seasons with Pittsburgh, Ward has been to the Pro Bowl twice and was named Super Bowl XL MVP after finishing with 123 receiving yards and one touchdown. Ward also became the Steelers' all-time receptions leader, surpassing Hall of Famer John Stallworth, and in 2007 became the team's career leader in receiving yards and touchdown receptions. In 2010, Ward became the first receiver in team history, and fifth in NFL history, to reach 11,000 career receiving yards and currently has 11,702 receiving yards for his career.

Arians has also guided the Steelers to some of its most productive offensive years in the team's history. In his first year as offensive coordinator in 2007, Arians helped Roethlisberger get elected to his first Pro Bowl as he broke Terry Bradshaw's long-standing team record for most TD passes in a season with 32. Roethlisberger also finished with a career-best and team-record QB rating of 104.1.

In 2009, the Steelers' offense became the first unit in team history to boast a 4,000-yard passer, two 1,000-yard receivers and a 1,000-yard rusher in the same season. Along the way the offense broke both of the team's records for passing first downs (210) and passes completed (351).

Arians has also been instrumental in the development of Steelers' wide receiver Mike Wallace, who in his second year posted his first career 1,000-yard season as he led all Steelers with 60 receptions, 1,257 receiving yards and 10 touchdowns, including 26 receptions for at least 20 yards in 2010.

Prior to the Steelers, Arians spent three seasons (2001-2003) as the offensive coordinator for the Cleveland Browns. In 2002 under Arians' guidance, the Browns scored their most points since the 1987 season and also improved in virtually every major offensive category from the three years prior to his arrival.

Arians was instrumental in the development of Indianapolis Colts quarterback Peyton Manning while serving as the Colts' quarterbacks coach for three years (1998-2000). Under Arians' tutelage, Manning totaled 4,413 yards and 33 touchdowns in 2000 to break his own club season record. His 33 touchdown passes in 2000 established a Colts' franchise record previously held by John Unitas.

He began his coaching career in 1975 as a graduate assistant at Virginia Tech. A 1974 Hokie graduate, Arians played quarterback and was voted the team's most valuable player as a senior.

Arians then held an assistant coaching position at Mississippi State (running backs and wide receivers) from 1978-80 before heading to Alabama to coach the running backs from 1981-82 under the legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant.

He was also the head coach at Temple University from 1983-88. Arians also held positions with the Kansas City Chiefs (running backs, 1989-92), Mississippi State (offensive coordinator, 1993-95), New Orleans Saints (tight ends, 1996) and Alabama (offensive coordinator, 1997).

Arians was born in Paterson, N.J. He and his wife Christine have a son, Jake (32), and daughter, Kristi Anne (30).

after three games in

Dick LeBeau is in the eighth year of his second tour of duty with the Steelers, for whom he experienced much success during the mid-1990s as both the team's defensive backs coach and defensive coordinator.

Considered the architect of the Steelers' famed "zone blitz," LeBeau was named the Steelers' defensive coordinator Jan. 16, 2004, after spending the 2003 season with the Buffalo Bills. He is one of six assistant coaches who remained on Pittsburgh's staff following Mike Tomlin's hiring in January, 2007.

In 2009, LeBeau was recognized for his outstanding football career, both as a coach and player. In September, he was inducted into the Varsity O Alumni Association's Hall of Fame, honoring his career at Ohio State University and over 50 years in the NFL. Then in February of 2010, LeBeau was honored with the highest individual award in professional football when the Pro Football Hall of Fame announced him as a member of its Class of 2010 for his 14-year playing career as a cornerback for the Detroit Lions. LeBeau was enshrined into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, on Saturday, Aug. 7, at Fawcett Stadium.

The Steelers continued to showcase some of their best pass-rushing and run-stopping ability in 2010 when they led the league in at least eight defensive categories and shattered the team record for rushing yards per game allowed by giving up just 62.8 yards per game. The Steelers outrushed 14 of their 16 opponents in 2010, averaging nearly 60 more yards on the ground than their opponents and finished the season with 21 interceptions on the year, the most since 1996 when they had 23. In 2010, Troy Polamalu was named AFC Defensive Player of the Year. In the past two seasons, Linebackers LaMarr Woodley and James Harrison, together totalled at least 20 sacks, which is good for two of the top four sack totals by a Steelers' duo in team history.

LeBeau's defense had a season for the ages in 2008 as they led the league in a number of categories and wreaked havoc on a week-to-week basis on opposing offenses. The Steelers ended the season first in total yards (237.2 avg.), against the pass (156.9 avg.) and in points allowed per game (13.9), while finishing second against the rush (80.3 avg.). The defense was led by Harrison, who won several major awards, including AP Defensive Player of the Year, after setting a franchise record with 16 sacks. LeBeau was named "Coordinator of the year" by Sporting News for the 2008 season.

LeBeau's impact on the coaching staff was profound as the Steelers returned to the top of the NFL in total defense and rushing defense in 2004. In 2005, his defensive game plans played an integral part in stopping four of the NFL's top five offenses in the AFC playoffs, including limiting Seattle to just 10 points in Super Bowl XL.

Since 1994, the Steelers have led the AFC in sacks six times and the entire NFL three times, including in 2010. Since 2004, the Steelers have the most sacks in the NFL with 309.

LeBeau, 73, is in the 53rd year of his NFL career, 14 as a player and the past 39 as a coach. Prior to his return to Pittsburgh, LeBeau served one year as the assistant head coach with the Buffalo Bills and the previous two-plus years as the head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals.

After five seasons in Pittsburgh from 1992-96, when he coached the secondary (1992-94) and then was defensive coordinator (1995-96), LeBeau returned to Cincinnati as the Bengals' assistant head coach/defensive coordinator (1997-2000). He was later promoted to head coach Sept. 25, 2000, (after three games) and served in that capacity for two more seasons.

LeBeau began his coaching career as a special teams coach for the Philadelphia Eagles from 1973-75. He also was an assistant coach at Green Bay (1976-79) and Cincinnati (1980-83), before serving his first term as the Bengals' defensive coordinator from 1984-91.

Prior to entering the coaching ranks, LeBeau produced an outstanding pro career from which he still holds the NFL all-time record of 171 consecutive games for a cornerback and currently is tied for seventh all-time in the NFL with 62 career interceptions. His nine interceptions in 1970 led the NFC and his 62 career interceptions ranked third in the NFL at the time of his retirement. LeBeau also appeared in three Pro Bowls.

LeBeau was born in London, Ohio. He and his wife Nancy have one son, Brandon Grant.

Al Everest is in his second season as the special teams coordinator for the Pittsburgh Steelers. Everest, who was hired on January 21, 2010, enters his 15th NFL season as a special teams coordinator.

In 2010, Everest was instrumental in the development of a group of rookies who provided a spark for Steelers' special teams. Both rookie wide receivers Emmanuel Sanders and Antonio Brown played major roles in the special teams' success. Sanders averaged 25.1 yards per kickoff return, including a long of 48 yards, while also returning four punts for 60 yards. Brown returned the team's only kickoff return for a touchdown, an 89-yarder against Tennessee in Week 2. Rookie linebackers Jason Worilds and Stevenson Sylvester added to the special teams success by posting a total of 30 special teams tackles in the 2010 season.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Everest coached for the San Francisco 49ers (2007-09) and has also coached in the NFL with the New Orleans Saints (2000-05) and the Arizona Cardinals (1996-99). He has more than 38 years of coaching experience in the National Football League, European professional football, college football and baseball. He earned Special Teams Coach of the Year honors in 2007 from the Aguiar Kicking Academy and was named NFL Special Teams Coach of the Year in 2002 when his special teams units had three touchdown returns and blocked five kicks during the season.

Everest began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Southern Methodist (1972) and North Texas (1973-74) before becoming an assistant coach at Cameron University (1974-75). He served as athletic director and head football coach at American School Foundation in Mexico City from 1976-80. From 1981-87, Everest coached baseball at U.S. International University.

Everest coached professional football in Italy for the Legnano Frogs (1988-90, '93) and the Pesaro Angels (1991). He coached the secondary for the Arkansas Minors of the Pro Spring Football League in 1992 and was special teams coordinator for the Canadian Football League's Birmingham Barracudas in 1995.

Prior to his first stint with the Legnano Frogs, Everest served as athletic director and football coach at the American School Foundation in Mexico City (1976-80). In 1981, he made the decision to return stateside and joined U.S. International University from 1981-87 where he earned a doctorate degree and at the same time was the school's head baseball coach. Everest was a two-year starting safety for Southern Methodist University from 1970-71. In 1972, he started gaining coaching experience as a graduate assistant for SMU under Head Coach Hayden Fry. Everest then followed Fry to North Texas where he continued as a graduate assistant from 1973-74.

Everest's dad, Andy Everest, coached at Utah, Stanford, UCSB, SMU, North Texas and New Orleans Saints with Head Coach Bum Phillips. Together they won two Italian Super Bowls and one European Championship.

Everest and his wife, Mischelle, have two daughters, Michelle (22) and Kaycee (15), and live in Wexford, Pa.

Keith Butler is in his ninth year on the Steelers' coaching staff after joining the staff prior to the 2003 season. He remained on staff following Mike Tomlin's hiring in January, 2007.

Butler and Tomlin previously worked together at Memphis in 1996, where Butler was the linebackers/defensive ends/special teams coach and Tomlin served as the Tigers' defensive backs coach.

Butler was named the Steelers' linebackers coach Jan. 28, 2003, after serving the previous four seasons in a similar capacity with the Cleveland Browns (1999-02).

Butler has been instrumental in the development of the Steelers' highly touted linebacking corps which includes three Pro Bowl players, James Farrior, James Harrison and LaMarr Woodley. In 2008 Butler was named NFL Linebacker Coach of the Year by Pro Football Weekly.

Under Butler's tutelage, Farrior, a second-team All-Pro in 2008, has led the Steelers' defense in tackles for seven straight seasons (2003-09). In 2010 Farrior had 137 tackles, second-best on the team, marking his eighth straight season with 100-plus tackles for the Steelers. It was linebacker Lawrence Timmons in his second season as a starter who exploded onto the scene in 2010 and led the team with 149 tackles (100 solo) and also had three sacks, two interceptions, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries.

Butler has also helped groom Harrison into one of the league's elite performers. Harrison, 2008 NFL Defensive Player of the Year, has earned two team MVP awards, recorded a 100-yard interception return for a touchdown in Super Bowl XLIII, the longest play in Super Bowl history and earned his fourth straight selection to the Pro Bowl in 2010. Harrison had a team-high 10.5 sacks in 2010 after posting 10 in 2009. Harrison currently holds the team record for sacks in a season when in 2008 he recorded a career-high 16 sacks. In addition, Harrison ranks second in team history for career forced fumbles with 24, behind only Greg Lloyd.

The Steelers have a tradition of fielding some of the best pass-rushing linebackers in the NFL and Harrison and Woodley have accounted for two of the top four sack totals by a Steelers' duo in team history. The two teamed up in 2008 to produce the most sacks in a single-season by a duo in Steelers' history with a combined 27.5 sacks. Then in 2009 they totaled a combined 23.5 sacks between them and again in 2010 combined for 20.5 sacks.

The linebacker unit as a whole was a key reason behind the 2010 Steelers finishing the regular season first overall in total defense, sacks and against the run, and second against the pass.

Woodley has been a force defensively since he became a starter in 2008. Woodley owns an NFL record for posting two sacks in each of his four postseason games and has 39 sacks in his first four seasons with the Steelers, which ranks as the best start in franchise history. In 2010 Woodley posted his first career interception for a touchdown and finished with 10 sacks, becoming the second player in team history behind Harrison to post at least 10 sacks in three straight years.

In 2006, Butler's linebacking crew helped the Steelers rank second in the AFC and third in the NFL in rushing defense. The unit allowed just 88.3 rushing yards per game and helped the defense to not allow a 100-yard rusher the entire season.

In 2005, Butler's linebackers helped the Steelers lead the AFC and rank fourth in the NFL in total defense. The sack tandem of Joey Porter (10.5) and Clark Haggans (9.0) ranked as the best for a linebacker duo in the entire NFL.

Prior to joining the Browns' staff, Butler spent nine years coaching in the college ranks, beginning his coaching career at his alma mater, Memphis, where he coached linebackers from 1990-97 and also coached defensive ends and special teams (1995-97). He then served as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Arkansas State in 1998.

Butler, 54, was selected by the Seattle Seahawks in the second round of the 1978 NFL Draft and played linebacker for 10 seasons (1978-87) with Seattle. He started 132-of-146 games in his career and still ranks second on the club's all-time tackles list with 813. A three-year starter at inside linebacker for Memphis, Butler led the school in tackles his junior and senior seasons. He finished his collegiate career with 384 tackles and seven interceptions. He was named a 1977 Associated Press All-American and played in the 1977 Senior Bowl and Blue-Gray All-Star Game.

Butler was born in Anniston, Ala. He and his wife Janet have three sons—Blake (28), Brandon (26) and Brett (24).

James Daniel is in his eighth season with Pittsburgh after remaining with the team following Mike Tomlin's hiring in January, 2007.

Named the Steelers' tight ends coach Jan. 24, 2004, Daniel, 57, spent the previous seven seasons (1997-2003) with the Atlanta Falcons, primarily as the Falcons' tight ends coach except for one year (2000) when he coached the offensive line.

Under Daniel's guidance, Heath Miller has become one of the top tight ends in franchise history. Miller has caught 35 postseason passes for 437 yards (12.5 avg.) with four touchdowns, all team postseason records for a tight end. With a total of 29 career touchdowns, Miller is second on the team's all-time list for touchdowns by a tight end.

In 2010, Miller moved into second place on the Steelers' all-time receiving yardage list for tight ends with 3,233 career receiving yards. Miller broke the team's single-season record for receptions for a tight end in 2009, catching 68 passes. Miller also posted his second career 100-yard receiving game, marking just the 11th 100-yard receiving game by a tight end in team history. Miller was named an offensive co-captain for the first time in his career in 2010, following his 2009 Pro-Bowl season.

In 2007, Daniel groomed a young group of tight ends that finished the season with 11 TDs, which is the most combined TDs of any Steelers' tight end corps.

During his tenure at Atlanta, Daniel was instrumental in the development of Pro Bowl tight end Alge Crumpler, who set a team receptions mark for tight ends in 2002 and 2003 with 44 and 36, respectively. Daniel began his NFL coaching career as the tight ends coach of the New York Giants from 1993-96. However, Daniel's first experience at the pro level occurred through the NFL's Fellowship Program in 1988 with the New Orleans Saints and in 1992 with the Denver Broncos and Head Coach Dan Reeves. He served under Reeves for his first 11 years in the NFL.

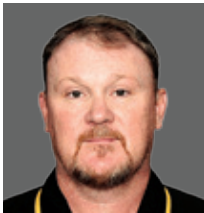

Daniel began his coaching career in the college ranks as the offensive line coach at Auburn (1981-92) for Head Coach Pat Dye. During Daniel's 12 years at Auburn, the Tigers appeared in nine postseason bowl games, four of his linemen earned All-America honors and several were selected All-Southeastern Conference.

Prior to Auburn, Daniel coached for seven years at Enterprise (Ala.) High School from 1974-80, during which 11 of his offensive linemen earned college scholarships.

As a collegian, Daniel was a three-year starter and four-year letter winner at Alabama State from 1970-73.

Daniel is married (Myrtis) with no children.

Randy Fichtner is in his second season coaching the Steelers' quarterbacks after spending three seasons as the team's wide receivers coach. He joined the Steelers after serving the previous six seasons at the University of Memphis. Fichtner was hired by Mike Tomlin on Jan. 29, 2007.

In 2010, Ben Roethlisberger finished a perfect 5-0 against divisional foes and owns a 29-7 record as a starter against AFC North opponents during his career. Roethlisberger had 11 touchdowns to just two interceptions and completed 60.7 percent of his passes for 1,761 yards at Heinz Field, giving him a 100.2 passer rating at Heinz Field. In 2009 the Steelers had two 1,000-yard receivers. Hines Ward posted his club record sixth 1,000-yard receiving season while Santonio Holmes posted his first career 1,000 yard receiving season, leading the team with 1,248 yards on 79 receptions. Rookie Mike Wallace led all AFC rookies with 756 receiving yards and added six touchdowns on the season.

Fichtner's receiving core had an excellent season in 2008 as Ward topped 1,000 yards (1,043) for the fifth time in his career, and Holmes was named MVP of Super Bowl XLIII after catching nine passes for 131 yards (14.6 avg.) including the gamewinning touchdown reception with 35 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter.

Under the tutelage of Fichtner, Ward and Holmes matched their reception total from 2006 (123), while increasing their TD catches from eight in 2006 to 15 in 2007.

Fichtner, who instituted the spread offense at Memphis, was an integral part of the Tiger football team for six years. He was hired in 2001 to serve as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach, and his offense re-wrote the Memphis record book for six seasons.

In 2004, All-American running back in DeAngelo Williams led an offense that finished the year ranked ninth nationally in total offense and 10th in the nation in scoring. Fichtner was a part of unprecedented offensive success at Memphis that also contributed to the Tigers playing in three straight bowl games from 2003-05.

The 2002 squad set a record for total offense with 4,258 yards, and then the 2003 team shattered that mark with 5,779 yards of total offense. In 2004, the Tigers amassed 5,524 yards of total offense to rank second all-time. The 2004 Tigers also set school records in points scored with 430 and in passing touchdowns with 25. Fichtner was no stranger to Memphis when he joined the staff in 2001. He had previously served as an assistant for the Tigers. Prior to his second stint at Memphis, Fichtner spent four years (1997-2000) at Arkansas State University. He arrived in Jonesboro as the quarterback coach in the spring of 1997 and was promoted to offensive coordinator in August of 1997.

During his tenure with the Indians, Fichtner worked with quarterback Cleo Lemon, who set virtually every Arkansas State passing and total offense record.

Prior to joining the staff at Arkansas State, Fichtner spent three years at his alma mater, Purdue, serving as wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator from 1994-96. The Cleveland, Ohio, native originally went to Memphis in the fall of 1990 and coached the Tiger receivers and quarterbacks for four seasons. During his stay at Memphis, Fichtner worked with St. Louis Rams All-Pro wide receiver Isaac Bruce.

Fichtner, 46, worked as a student assistant and graduate assistant at Purdue (1985-86) and at Michigan (1986-87), before serving as a volunteer coach at Southern California in 1988. He landed his first full-time position in 1989 as the tight ends coach at UNLV and worked for the Rebels for one season before coming to Memphis. Fichtner graduated from Purdue in 1985 with a bachelor's degree in health promotion.

He is married to the former Jennifer Parker of Covington, Tenn., and the couple has three children: a son, Nathaniel Ross (15), and daughters, Shelby Brooke (16) and Kirby Lynn (11).

Amos Jones is in his fifth season as the assistant special teams coach for the Steelers after being hired on Jan. 29, 2007.

Jones has been instrumental in the development of rookie wide receiver Emmanuel Sanders, who became a fixture on the Steelers' special teams units in 2010. Sanders was the teams primary kick returner and averaged 25.1 yards per kickoff return, including a long of 48 yards. Additionally, cornerback Anthony Madison led the team in 2010 with 22 special teams tackles while safety Ryan Mundy (15 tackles) and cornerback William Gay (13 tackles) all played major roles in the teams' special units in 2010.

In 2009, Jones coached the Pittsburgh's special teams to set a team kickoff return yardage record of 1,581, topping the previous 1988 record by six yards. Jones coached the Steelers with the NFL's top kick coverage unit during the 2008 season. The units were led by Madison, who led the team with 25 special teams tackles, and rookie Patrick Bailey, who was named the Steelers' Rookie of the Year for his outstanding work on special teams.

Jones, 51, spent the previous three years at Mississippi State as the special teams/linebackers coach (2004-05) and outside linebackers coach (2006). Under Jones' guidance, three linebackers earned Freshman All-SEC recognition and two punters earned all-conference honors.

A coaching veteran with more than 30 years of experience under his belt, Jones arrived at Mississippi State from James Madison University. He spent the 2003 football season as the Dukes' tight ends and special teams coach.

Prior to James Madison, Jones coached the running backs and special teams for four years at the University of Cincinnati (1999-2002). During his stay in the Queen City, Jones' handiwork helped all-American placekicker Jonathan Ruffin earn the Lou Groza Award as the nation's top kicker in 2000. During that same time, his punter, Adam Wulfreck earned All-Conference USA honors, and he coached a pair of 1,000-yard rushers.

Jones, who has coaching experience on the high school, collegiate and professional levels, coached the linebackers at Tulane University in 1995-96. He spent the 1992 season at the University of Pittsburgh as the kicking game coordinator.

Jones had two stints of duty at his alma mater, the University of Alabama. He worked with the Crimson Tide special teams in 1990-91 under head coach Gene Stallings. In 1990 under his guidance, Alabama had the nation's top-rated percentage placekicker (Phillip Doyle). A decade earlier, Jones began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under the legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant from 1981-82.

Between his two assignments in Tuscaloosa, Jones coached the tight ends (1983-85) and then the defensive line (1986-88) (under current Steelers offensive coordinator Bruce Arians) at Temple University from 1983-88, while also coordinating with the Owls' special teams.

Jones worked one season with the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League (1997), helping guide them to a Western Division playoff berth, and has worked in the high school ranks in Alabama, Florida and Louisiana.

A 1982 graduate of Alabama, Jones played safety and running back for Bryant. He was a member of the 1978 and '79 Tide teams that went 23-1 and earned back-to-back SEC titles, national championships and Sugar Bowl crowns. Jones later earned his master's degree from Alabama.

Jones and his wife Stacey, have four children, daughter Samantha (22) and sons Joshua (18), Nathan (10) and Jeremy (7).

Sean Kugler is in his second season with the Steelers. He was hired on January 14, 2010 as the team's offensive line coach.

Despite having a number of injuries to the offensive line in 2010, Kugler's work helped the Steelers average 120.3 rushing yards per game, outrushing 17-of-19 opponents, including the postseason. Kugler was instrumental in the development of Steelers' rookie Maurkice Pouncey. In 2010, Pouncey, who became the first Steelers' rookie lineman to start in his first NFL game since 2000 (Marvel Smith), was selected to the Pro Bowl.

Kugler, who is in his 10th season as an NFL coach, previously served as the offensive line coach for the Buffalo Bills from 2008-09 after joining them in 2007 as the assistant offensive line coach. While there, Kugler coached Jason Peters to consecutive Pro Bowls (2007-08). In 2007, the Bills' offensive line set a team record for allowing just 26 sacks and from 2007 to 2009 paved the way for three consecutive 1,000 yard rushers. Kugler began his NFL coaching career working with both the offensive line and tight ends for the Detroit Lions from 2001-05.

Kugler served as the assistant head coach/offensive line for Boise State in 2006. The Broncos were the only undefeated Division I-A NCAA team, finishing the season with a 13-0 record and a dramatic 43-42 victory over Oklahoma in the Fiesta Bowl. The offensive line opened holes for the sixth-ranked rushing attack in the country as the Broncos averaged 222.8 yards per game and paved the way for RB Ian Johnson who rushed for 1,755 yards to rank second in the nation and led the country with 25 touchdowns. Also at Boise State, Kugler coached future Denver Pro Bowl OT Ryan Clady.

Kugler was a four-year letterwinner at the University of Texas El-Paso (UTEP) from 1984-88. He played one season in the World League of American Football (WLAF) with the Sacramento Surge in 1989. Kugler earned his degree in education at the University of South Florida in 1991 while coaching three years of high school football in Tampa, Fla. from 1990-92. He coached for eight seasons at UTEP, assisting the defensive line as a graduate assistant in 1993 before coaching tight ends (1994) and the offensive line (1995-00).

A native of Lockport, N.Y., Kugler and his wife Patsy have two sons, Robert (18), Patrick (16) and one daughter, Kali (10).

Lake, who played safety and cornerback for the Steelers from 1989-98, will enter his first season as an assistant coach in the NFL. After 13 seasons, Lake retired from the NFL in 2001 following two seasons with Jacksonville (1999-00) and one with Baltimore (2001).

Following his retirement from football, Lake worked in a private business before starting his career in coaching as an intern with Green Bay Packers in 2010 and Philadelphia Eagles during their 2009 training camp.

Lake was a second-round draft pick of the Steelers in the 1989 NFL Draft and went on to earn five Pro Bowl trips (four with the Steelers and one with Jacksonville Jaguars). He finished his career with 16 fumble recoveries, which are fourth in team history, and 16 interceptions as a Steeler. In 1997 Lake was awarded AFC Defensive Player of the Year and was later named to the NFL 1990s All-Decade Team.

A three-year starter for the Bruins at outside linebacker, Lake was a first-team all-America selection as a senior (1988) as well as earning the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete Award. He was inducted into the UCLA Athletics Hall of Fame in 2000. Lake finished his college career with 45.5 tackles for loss and 25.5 sacks. Those totals are first and fourth in UCLA football history.

Born in Salt Lake City, Utah, Lake moved to California and attended Culver City High [Calif.]. He and his wife, Monica, have three children, Siena (15), Quentin (12) and Austin (10). They currently reside in Orange County, California.

Scottie Montgomery is in his second season with the Steelers as the team's wide receivers coach. He was hired by the Steelers on February 16th, 2010, after coaching wide receivers at his alma mater Duke from 2006-09.

In Montgomery's first season with the Steelers, wide receiver Mike Wallace had a breakout year posting his first career 1,000-yard season as he led all Steelers with 60 receptions, 1,257 receiving yards and 10 receiving touchdowns, all career highs. Wallace led the NFL with seven 100-yard receiving games. Hines Ward became the first receiver in at least 14 different career receiving categories and became the first receiver in team history, and just the fifth player in NFL history, to reach 11,000 career receiving yards.

Under Montgomery's tutelage, Duke had three receivers with more than 50 receptions and 600 receiving yards in 2009. Duke's passing attack gained 3,660 yards (305.0 avg.) and accounted for 24 touchdowns last season.

Montgomery, 32, played wide receiver in the NFL with the Denver Broncos (2000-02) after originally signing with the Carolina Panthers as a rookie free agent in 2000.

Prior to his professional playing career, Montgomery finished among Duke's all-time leading receivers.

A native of Cleveland County, N.C., Montgomery is one of just five two-time MVPs in Duke history. He currently ranks second on the Blue Devils' all-time list in career receptions (171), fourth in receiving yards (2,378) and is one of only three players to lead the program in receiving in three straight seasons (1997-99). Montgomery is one of only two Duke receivers to post three straight seasons with at least 50 receptions and 600 receiving yards.

Montgomery and his wife, Ebony, have one son, Cassius.

Kirby Wilson is in his fifth season as the Steelers' running backs coach. Wilson, who was hired on Jan. 29, 2007, came to Pittsburgh with 19 years of coaching experience at both the collegiate and professional levels.

Wilson, 49, carried the momentum into 2010 as Rashard Mendenhall set a career-high 1,273 rushing yards, ranking him seventh in the NFL and marked his second consecutive season with over 1,000 yards on the ground. Mendenhall had three 100-yard games and a career-high 13 rushing touchdowns.

In 2009, Wilson was instrumental in Mendenhall's breakout season as he posted his first career 1,000-yard rushing season with 1,108 yards on the year. He rushed 242 times with a team-high seven rushing touchdowns. In 2007, Wilson helped Willie Parker earn his second consecutive Pro Bowl and led the NFL in rushing through the first 16 weeks before he broke his leg in the second-to-last game of the season.

Prior to the Steelers, Wilson coached the running backs for the Arizona Cardinals (2004-06) after spending two seasons as running backs coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2002-03).

After one season (2001) as wide receivers coach at Southern California, Wilson then joined head coach Jon Gruden's staff in Tampa Bay in 2002. That season, the trio of running backs Michael Pittman, Aaron Stecker and Pro Bowl fullback Mike Alstott collectively gained over 1,400 rushing yards and helped the Buccaneers to a Super Bowl XXXVII victory over Oakland.

Prior to his stint with the Buccaneers, Wilson spent four years as running backs coach with the New England Patriots (1997-99) and Washington Redskins (2000), tutoring a trio of running backs, including Patriots backs Curtis Martin (1997) and Robert Edwards (1998), and later Redskins running back Stephen Davis (2000). In addition, Wilson honed the skills of Washington fullback Larry Centers, who led his team with 80 pass receptions in 2000. Centers (827 pass receptions) and Keith Byars (610 receptions), whom Wilson coached in New England in 1997, rank one and three in career receptions by a running back in NFL history.

Wilson entered the coaching arena on the staff at Pasadena (CA) City College (1985) as wide receivers coach, and after earning a bachelor of arts degree from Eastern Illinois in 1989, returned to coaching at Los Angeles Southwest Community College (1989-90) as quarterbacks and wide receivers coach. Following two seasons at Southern Illinois as linebackers coach (1991) and secondary coach/passing game coordinator (1992), he joined the staff at Wyoming (1993-94) as secondary coach, helping the Cowboys win the 1993 Western Athletic Conference title and earn an appearance in the Copper Bowl.

Wilson coached running backs at Iowa State from 1995-96. Under his guidance, Troy Davis earned all-America honors and led the nation with over 2,000 yards rushing in both '95 and '96—the only player in NCAA history to reach the 2,000-yard rushing mark in consecutive seasons.

A running back and wide receiver at Pasadena Community College (1979-80) and the University of Illinois (1980-81), Wilson played two seasons in the Canadian Football League as a defensive back and kick returner for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers (1983) and Toronto Argonauts (1984).

Born in Los Angeles, Wilson was on the football and track teams at Dorsey High School in his native Los Angeles. Wilson has five children; sons Kris, Michael and Tyler, and daughters Malia and Savanna.

Goodwin, 37, spent three seasons (2004-06) as the assistant offensive line coach with the Chicago Bears. Prior to joining Chicago, Goodwin was the offensive line coach at Central Michigan from 2000-03, where he worked with future pros Eric Ghiaciuc and Adam Kieft. Goodwin also served as assistant head coach in 2003. He began his coaching career at Eastern Michigan where he spent the 1998 season overseeing tight ends and offensive tackles, and 1999 coaching the team's offensive line.

A native of Columbia, S.C., Goodwin was an offensive lineman at Michigan from 1992-94, and spent the next two years as a student assistant with the Wolverines. He served as a graduate assistant for Michigan when the Wolverines won the national title in 1997 and worked with an offensive line which featured three future pros in Steve Hutchinson, Jon Jansen and Jeff Backus.

Goodwin's brother, Jonathan Goodwin, is an offensive lineman for the New Orleans Saints. Jonathan made the Pro Bowl as a reserve in 2010.

Goodwin graduated from Michigan in 1996 with a degree in management/communications. He and his wife, Monica, have three children, Kylee (12), Miya (10) and Bryson (5).

Olsavsky, a 10-year NFL veteran, spent seven seasons coaching linebackers for Youngstown State. Prior to coaching at Youngstown State, Olsavsky spent one year as an assistant strength coach at University of North Carolina, and he also coached at his alma mater Chaney High School in Youngstown and at Duquesne University.

Olsavsky, 43, was drafted by the Steelers in the 10th round of the 1989 NFL Draft and played linebacker with the team from 1989-97. He played in 108 games for the Steelers and made 227 tackles while also excelling on special teams throughout his career. Olsavsky battled back from a career threatening knee injury in 1993 to become a starter at inside linebacker for the Steelers in Super Bowl XXX. In 1995, he was the recipient of the Steelers' Ed Block Courage Award for an outstanding on-field performance despite the obstacles he faced. Olsavsky finished his playing career in 1998 with the Baltimore Ravens.

Playing collegiately at the University of Pittsburgh, Olsavsky was a first team Kodak All-American as a senior in 1988 making 129 tackles. He became the Panthers' first defensive player since 1976 to record more than 100 tackles in three consecutive seasons. He had a team-high 127 tackles his sophomore year. He earned his degree in Information Science in 1990.

Olsavsky, born in Youngstown, Ohio, resides in Pittsburgh with his wife, Rayme, and three children, Joseph (9), Emma (7) and Dominic (5).

Conditioning Coordinator

Garrett Giemont is in his fifth season as conditioning coordinator for the Pittsburgh Steelers after being hired on January 31, 2007.

Giemont received the 2008 Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year/ Super Bowl Achievement Award from the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

Giemont, 53, has 28 years of experience in the NFL and was with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as their strength and conditioning coordinator prior to joining the Steelers. He was with the Buccaneers from 2003-05.

Giemont was named Coach of the Year by The Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society after the 2002 season while working for the Oakland Raiders under head coach Bill Callahan. Giemont spent eight seasons as a member of the Raiders staff, including the first seven as strength and conditioning coach and the final season as strength and conditioning coordinator.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Giemont spent three seasons as the Director of Physical Development in Major League Baseball with the Chicago Cubs (1992-94). He originally entered the NFL with the Los Angeles Rams in 1970 as a training assistant and served as the Rams' assistant trainer from 1978-82. From 1983-89, Giemont was the Rams' strength and conditioning trainer and worked as the team's strength and conditioning coach from 1990-91.

Giemont and his wife, Sonya, have two sons, Jackson (5) and Jett (2).

MARCEL PASTOOR Conditioning Assistant

Marcel Pastoor is in his eighth season as the Steelers' assistant strength and conditioning coach and his 11th with the team.

Pastoor assists conditioning coordinator Garrett Giemont with the strength and conditioning program.

Pastoor received his undergraduate degree from Virginia Tech in exercise physiology and kinesiology in 2000. He completed his Masters from the University of Pittsburgh, graduating with honors in exercise physiology in 2003.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Pastoor interned with the Washington Redskins in 1998 and was the volunteer assistant strength coach for Radford University from 1999-2001.

RAYMOND JACKSON Player Development

Raymond Jackson is in his seventh season with the Steelers and eighth in the NFL.

Jackson joined the Steelers to work in the area of player development. His responsibility is to assist players in the area of life skills on and off the field; such as continuing education, internships, investment information and in making a smooth transition to life after football.

Jackson also assists conditioning coordinator Garrett Giemont with the strength and conditioning program for the players.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Jackson worked in player development and the scouting department for the Cleveland Browns. He also assisted Cleveland's special teams coach with breaking down tape.

A former cornerback with the Buffalo Bills (1995-98) and the Cleveland Browns (1999-2001), Jackson began his NFL career as a fifth-round draft choice of the Bills out of Colorado State where he earned his bachelor's degree in social work.

Jackson and his wife Natalie have two children, daughter Alissa (12) and son Raymond Jr. (10). Jackson also has three children, Pashay (22), Evan (18) and Amaya (15).

Pittsburgh Steelers
General Manager

Kevin Colbert is in his 12th season with the Steelers, and his first year as the team's general manager. A Pittsburgh native, Colbert was named to his position February 15, 2000.

During his 11 seasons with the Steelers, Colbert has helped assemble teams that have won two Super Bowl titles (Super Bowl XL and Super Bowl XLIII), five division championships, made six playoff berths and had seven winning seasons.

Colbert, 54, oversees the personnel area of the team and supervises the scouting staff. Among his duties, he is in charge of administering player acquisitions and transactions, including the NFL Draft, free agent signings and trades, and evaluating pro and college personnel. He also serves as the Steelers' liaison with the NFL office and the other NFL teams on football matters.

Colbert served as the Detroit Lions' pro scouting director from 1990 to 1999. He was responsible for scouting NFL players, the NFL Europe League and the Canadian Football League. He also assisted in the evaluation of college talent.

Prior to joining the Lions, Colbert spent five seasons as a college scout for the Miami Dolphins (1985-89) and one season (1984) with the BLESTO Scouting Service.

Colbert began his career as a coach and has experience in three sports—football, basketball and baseball. He was the backfield coach and recruiting coordinator at Ohio Wesleyan University for three years (1981-83) and in 1984 also served as the school's head baseball coach.

From 1979-81, Colbert was a graduate assistant basketball coach at Robert Morris. He also served as the school's head baseball coach in 1981.

Born and raised in Pittsburgh, Colbert graduated from North Catholic High School and received his bachelor's degree from Robert Morris in 1979. He and his wife, Janis, have three children: Kacie (28), Jennifer (25) and Daniel (22).

RON HUGHES College Scouting Coordinator

Ron Hughes is in his ninth year as the Steelers' college scouting coordinator. Named to his position April 30, 2003, Hughes had served as a consultant for the Steelers for two-plus years prior to his appointment.

Hughes, 67, a Charleroi High School and California University of Pennsylvania graduate, spent 17 seasons with the Detroit Lions, serving his last four years as the Lions' vice president of player personnel until his departure prior to the 2001 season. He coordinated and supervised all of the Lions' college and pro scouting in his role as vice president.

After coaching football at the high school level in the Pittsburgh area for 14 years, Hughes began his career in professional football in 1979 as a scout for the BLESTO scouting service. He joined the Lions scouting department in 1983 and was later promoted to director of pro scouting and then to director of player personnel in 1990.

Hughes and his wife Adrienne have three children—sons Ted (43) and Scott (40), and daughter Jennifer (34)—and four grandchildren.

BRANDON HUNT Pro Scouting Coordinator

Brandon Hunt is in his second season as the Steelers' pro personnel coordinator after spending two previous years as a pro scout for the Houston Texans. In his current position, Hunt is responsible for scouting Steelers' opponents and evaluating pro players.

Hunt joined the Texans in the summer of 2007 and served as a pro scout for the team until being hired by the Steelers. Prior to joining Houston, Hunt spent the 2005 and 2006 seasons as an intern for the Steelers' scouting department where he helped with both the college and pro scouting, and he was on board when the team won Super Bowl XL to give the franchise its fifth Lombardi Trophy.

Hunt's professional career began as a graduate assistant at Indiana University of Pennsylvania in 2004, and after a year there he was hired by the Steelers to work in their player personnel department.

Hunt attended college at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. There he was a four-year starter at guard and center from 2000-03. He captained the team as a senior and earned first-team All-PSAC and All-Region honors at guard. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in management information systems in December 2003 and a Master of Business Administration degree in August 2006.

Born in Los Angeles, Hunt was raised in Pittsburgh where he attended Pine-Richland High School and lettered in football and track.

PHIL KREIDLER Pro/College Scout

Phil Kreidler is in his 21st season with the Steelers as a college and pro scout. After spending his first eight years with the team scouting college players, Kreidler was given additional responsibilities of scouting pro teams in 2000.

Kreidler served as a full-time intern in the Steelers' personnel department in 1991-92 and was named to the scouting staff in June 1992.

From 1988-90, Kreidler served as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Cincinnati, where he helped coach the wide receivers and quarterbacks.

Kreidler, 45, attended Furman University, where he played free safety. He was a member of the 1985 1-AA national finalist and Southern Conference champion Paladin squad. He graduated in 1988 with a degree in history.

Kreidler and his wife, Kim, have one son, Jeff (?), and live in Pittsburgh.

MARK BRUENER BLESTO Scout

Mark Bruener is in his first full season as a Steelers' college scout after joining the team in September 2010.

Prior to joining the team, Bruener played tight end with the Steelers for nine seasons (1995-03) after being drafted by Pittsburgh in the first round, 27th overall, of the 1995 NFL Draft. In 1998 Bruener was voted Steelers' Sprint Man of the Year for his dedication to community service. He finished his playing career for the Houston Texans from 2004-08. With 14 seasons in the NFL, Bruener was considered one of the best blocking tight ends in the NFL and saw action in 186 games with 139 starts, boasted 152 receptions for 1,333 yards and 18 TDs. He was a part of five Steelers playoff teams and helped Pittsburgh average 2,142 rushing yards per season over his nine years there.

Bruener, a graduate from University of Washington with a degree in economics, was a three-year starter who finished his career as Washington's school-record holder for catches by a tight end with 90, ranking eighth overall.

Bruener formerly served on the NFL Players Association Executive Committee. Prior to joining the Steelers scouting staff full-time, Bruener spent the 2010 summer interning with the Steelers' scouting department during training camp.

A native of Olympia, Wash., Bruener currently lives in Woodinville, Wash., with his wife, Traci, and two daughters, Allie (13) and Chloe (12), and two sons, Carson (9) and Braydon (?).

KELVIN FISHER College Scout

Kelvin Fisher is in his 12th season as a Steelers' college scout after joining the team in June 2000.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Fisher served one year as the coordinator of academic accountability at his alma mater, Arizona State University. At Arizona State, he was a liaison between student-athletes, coaches, professors and academic counselors.

A four-year starting fullback for Arizona State (1988-91), Fisher graduated in 1992 with a degree in social work. Upon graduation, he signed with the New York Jets as a free agent in 1992.

Fisher worked as a juvenile probation officer in Maricopa County, Ariz., from 1993-96, and with the State Office for Service to Children and Family in Portland, Oregon (1996-99).

A native of Ambridge, Pa., Fisher currently lives in Queen Creek, Ariz., with his wife, Angela, and two children, Kelvin Jr. (18) and Kailie (17).

MARK GORSKAK College Scout

Mark Gorscak is in his 17th season with the Steelers. This is Gorscak's 14th year as an area scout after spending his first three years as the Steelers' BLESTO scout.

Gorscak previously coached on the high school and college levels for 16 years. His first coaching experience was at Perkiomen (Pa.) Prep School. He followed that with coaching assignments at Western Maryland College, Dickinson College (his alma mater), Gulliver Prep (Fla.) High School and two tenures at Weber State University.

In 1987, between stints at Weber State, he became the first general manager of the Pittsburgh Gladiators in its inaugural season of the Arena Football League.

Additionally, Gorscak has been an athletic administrator at Dickinson and Weber State. He graduated with a degree in psychology from Dickinson and received a master's degree in sports administration from St. Thomas University in Miami, Fla. Gorscak was inducted into the Mid Mon Valley Hall of Fame in 2010.

BRUCE McNORTON College Scout

McNorton, who joined the Steelers in May 2000, had previously worked with Kevin Colbert, Director of Football Operations, as a part-time scout with the Detroit Lions.

McNorton, 49, enjoyed a 10-year playing career as a defensive back with the Lions and Miami Dolphins.

A highly successful coach at Pontiac Northern High School in Michigan, McNorton was selected the 1999 Class A District Coach of the Year and led his team to the state quarterfinals.

He has three children, daughters Mykeshia (26) and Britteny (25), and son Bruce Jr. (20).

BILL NUNN College Scout

Bill Nunn is in his 44th season in the Steelers' player personnel department where he helps evaluate college talent.

After originally joining the Steelers as a scout in 1968, Nunn was promoted to assistant director of player personnel in 1970. During that period he also served as training camp director. Prior to joining the Steelers Nunn was both the sports editor and managing editor for the Pittsburgh Courier.

In February of 2010 Nunn was inducted into the Black College Football Hall of Fame for his legendary work as a journalist and NFL scout.

Nunn is a graduate of West Virginia State University where he earned a degree in English. During his college career, he captained the only unbeaten basketball team in the nation and was elected to the West Virginia State University Sports Hall of Fame.

Nunn and his wife, Frances, live in Pittsburgh. The Nunn's have one daughter, Lynell Wilson, and a son, William III, and three grandchildren.

DAVID PETETT College/Pro Scout

David Petett is in his eighth year with the Steelers and first as a college/pro scout. Petett served as a BLESTO scout for his first seven seasons after serving as a player personnel intern in 2004.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Petett served as a student assistant at the University of Wisconsin where he assisted with the defensive line and special teams.

Born and raised in Pittsburgh, Petett was a 1997 graduate of Shady Side Academy where he lettered in Football and Baseball. In 2001 Petett graduated from Lehigh University with a degree in Political Science. While attending Lehigh he was a 4 year starter on the defensive line and named an All-American in 2000.

DAN ROONEY JR. College Scout

Dan Rooney Jr. is in his 15th year as a college scout. He is the son of Steelers Chairman Emeritus Dan Rooney and the brother of Steelers' President Art Rooney II.

Rooney graduated from Washington and Jefferson College in 1986 with a degree in business administration. He played football for legendary Head Coach John Luckhart during his enrollment at the college. Rooney was an all-conference safety as a sophomore and a special teams player as a junior and senior. After graduation, Rooney worked under Coach Luckhart as an assistant coach from 1986 to 1990.

In 1991, Rooney spent a season with the NFL Europe League office then located in Dallas, Texas. His primary responsibilities were to Team Dallas, a spare parts team that supplied the league with replacements for injured players.

In 1993 Rooney moved to Durham N.C., where he taught and coached at the high school level. He coached for Gary Merrill at Northern Durham High, one of the state's top high school programs. From 1995-1997, Rooney coached at Leesville Road High in Raleigh N.C.
